- Respondent ALLAN M. MARQUEZ (ALLAN), is of legal age, Filipino, and a resident of Edwards Subdivision, Poblacion, District 1 Brooke's Point Palawan where he may be served with sumprocesses of the Court;

PREFATORY STATEMENT

- 4. This present petition is for the declaration of the marriage between petitioner and respondent as VOID on two grounds:
- a. False Affidavit of Long Cohabitation which results to a MARRIAGE WITHOUT A MARRIAGE LICENSE, an absence in one of the formal requisites of a valid
- b. PSYCHOLOGICAL INCAPACITY of the respondent.

THE FACTS

- 5. Petitioner and Respondent got married on January 05, 2005, in Tandag City. Attached hereto as Exhibit "E"is the copy of their certificate of marriage;
- . Charity grew up in a conservative environm to devout Roman Catholic parents that imposed stringent household rules. Corporal punishment for disobedience of said rules were enforced. Good behavior, such as good academic performance, was rewarded;
- Allan grew up primarily at the care of his mother. Allan's father started working overseas in Saudi Arabia when the former was quite young. Allan's mother is a devout Born Again Christian. As such, she was a Born Again Christian. As such, she was a strict disciplinarian with rigid and stubborn beliefs and imposed these ideals on Allan as child. His mother was his voice and was the one who made decisions for him including the decision to pursue a career as a nurse

- 8. Petitioner Charity and Respondent Allan met on June 2004 working as staff nurses at Almana General Hospital in Damman, Saudi Arabia. Charity was assigned in the Female Medical Ward with alternating day and night chifts constitute to the stage of Allan shifts, sometimes working on weekends. Allan worked daytime on weekdays at the Endoscopy Department;
- 9 The parties became sweethearts through the telephone where they would talk two to three times a week for a maximum of thirty (30) minutes. The parties never went on a date for the whole duration of their relationship due to strict restrictions in Saudi Arabia. Allan was Charity's first boyfriend;
- 10. During the relationship, Charity noticed that Allan was a "mama's boy" as he would often talk about her mother with reverence and could not make decisions without her. They would disagree often about religion as Allan would insist that the Born Again Christian doctrines are superior to Roman Catholicism To avoid prolonging arguments, Charity
- 11. Around November 2004, Charity opened up about going to the Philippines for vacation. Allan initiated discussions of getting married Charity made it clear that she does not want to convert to a Born Again Christian. Allan assured her that it would not be a problem. Allan proposed that they marry first through a civil ceremony and a church wedding through Roman Catholic rites will follow if they have garnered enough savings;
- 12. During the wedding preparations, Allan was uncooperative and unhelpful. Although they both shared the expenses, the latter often complained about the long travel time to
- country, and in order to expedite the process of their wedding, the parties did not secure a marriage license. The parties instead signed a joint affidavit of long cohabitation on the very same day of their marriage ceremony as they were informed that it is one of the formalities of their marriage.
- 14. Allan's family were absent during the celebration of their marriage. Unbeknownst to Charity, Allan's mother had disapproved of their plans of getting married unless Charity would convert into a Born Again Christian. Charity, however, was indignant that she would not convert as it is important for her family to remain Roman Catholic;
- 15. During their marriage. Charity experienced sexual and verbal abuse from Allan. Charity sexual and veroal abuse from Allan. Charity admitted that every sexual intercourse was traumatic and painful as Allan was more concerned of achieving orgasm despite Charity crying or in pain. Allan even forced her to have oral sex but Charity refused;
- 16. Few days after their marriage, Charity fled to Bulacan to avoid having sex with Allan under the pretext that she would go see her sister. Allan, accompanied by his mother, would go to her to insist that Charity needed to return which she did begrudgingly;
- 7. Charity would then ask for a church wedding but Allan would deny it unless she converted and that his mother would rather "kill herself, than have Allan marry under a Roman Catholic Ceremony. Charity retorted that Allan is already a full grown man that does need to be dictated by his mother, but Allan responded that he must obey her;
- 18. By February 2005, Charity returned to Saudi Arabia for work, and the parties' long-distance Arabia for work, and the parties long-distance relationship began. Charity noticed that Allan made no effort to apply for a job and became increasingly demanding. Allan would ask Charity to sponsor family outings, medical expenses for his family, and would continually ask when will be the next time she sends more. sends money;
- 19. Since their marriage, Charity could not enjoy her hard-earned money as she would withhold on her savings to support Allan. When asked why he was not applying for jobs, Allan would reason out that he was busy with church activities;
- 20. Allan was also verbally abusive as he did not 1. Alian was also verbany abusive as ne did not approve of Charity sending money to her family, constantly making her choose between Allan and her family. Allan would guilt-trip Charity for sending money to her family. He also threatened to break up with Charity if she would not heed his demands;
- 21. The parties had their separation de facto in August 2005. Charity could no longer take the verbal abuse and exploitation by Allan and his family. Furthermore, Allan did not make any effort to apply for jobs and continued to be dependent on Charity;
- 22. Their last communication occurred through a phone call in 2015 when Allan, accompanied his mother, visited Charity's sister in
- 3. Charity contends that there is no longer chance for reconciliation. For less than a year she was married to Allan, the latter did not show any love, respect, nor support. Allan was exploitative, abusive, and insensitive to her needs. She cannot stay in a marriage, let alone be recognized to be married to a person who has caused her misery, trauma, and

DISCUSSION OF LEGAL BASIS

Marriage is void ab initio for lack of marriage license.

24. The Family Code of the Philippines which is the law that governs the marriage of the parties in this case provides for the following rules pertinent to the instant case, to wit:

Article 3. The formal requisites of marriage

- 1. Authority of the solemnizing officer; 1. Authority of the soleminating officer, 2. A valid marriage license except in the cases provided for in Chapter 2 of this Title; and 3. A marriage ceremony which takes place before the solemnizing officer and their personal declaration that they take each other as husband and wife in the presence of not less that two witnesses of legal age.
- Article 4. The absence of any of the essential and formal requisites shall render the marriage void ab initio except as stated in Article 35(2).

that two witnesses of legal age.

XXX
Treefore, a marriage solemnized without a marriage license is void. But as with other legal provisions, this rule has an exception.

Article 34 is one of the exceptions which states that:

"No license shall be necessary for the marriage of a man and a woman who have lived together as husband and wife for at least (5) years and without any legal impediment to marry each other. The contradicting parties marry each other. The contradicting parties shall state the foregoing facts in an affidavit before any person authorized by law to administer oaths. The solemnizing officer shall also state under oath that he ascertained the qualifications of the contracting parties and found no legal impediment to the marriage."

- 25. In the case of Manzano v. Sanchez, A.M. No. MTJ-001329, March 8, 2001, the Court established the requisites for the exception of the requirement of marriage license under Article 34, these are the following:
 - 1. Living together as husband and wife for at least five (5) years before the marriage
- teast five (1) years before the marriage;
 2. No legal impediment to marry each other during the period of cohabitation;
 3. Fact of absence of legal impediment must be present at the time of marriage;
 4. Parties must execute an Affidavit that they are living together as bushood and wife 6-6. are living together as husband and wife for 5 years and that they do not have any impediment to marry; and
- to marry; and
 5. Solemnizing Officer must execute a Sworn statement that he had ascertained the qualifications of the parties and found no legal impediment to their marriage.

Moreover, it is enunciated in the said case that the 5-year period of cohabitation must be characterized by (a) exclusivity and (b) continuity. Exclusivity means that the partn must live together exclusively, with no other partners during the whole 5-year period. Continuity on the other hand means that, such cohabitation was unbroken. The period is counted from the date of celebration of marriage. It should be the years immediately before the day of the marriage;

- 26. In the present case, the parties entered into a contract of marriage without obtaining a valid marriage license because they mistakenly assumed that they can exempted from such formal requirement of marriage.
- 27. The parties instead, executed an affidavit of long cohabitation but the requirement of long cohabitation for at least five (5) years was not together as husband an wife prior to the celebration of their marriage.
- Attached hereto as Exhibit "F" is the copy of Affidavit of Long Cohabitation obtained from the Office of the City Civil Registrar of Tandag
- 28. In the case of Republic vs. Dayot, G.R. No. 175581, March 28, 2008, Court ruled that "the falsity of the allegation in the sworn affidavit, which would have qualified their marriage as an exception to the requirement for a marriage an exception to the requirement for a marriage license, cannot be a mere irregularity, for it refers to a quintessential fact that the law precisely required to be deposed and attested to by the parties under oath. If the essential matter in the sworn affidavit is a lie, then it is but a mere scrap of paper, without force and effect. Hence, it is as if there was no affidavit at all."
- 29. In sum, the parties' marriage is void ab initio for non- compliance of the formal requisite of a valid marriage license and their reliance in the exception of such requirement in Article 34 of the Family Code which was clearly not

Marriage is void for one of the parties is psychologically acapacitated.

- 30. Under "Article 36 of the Family Code" marriage contracted by any party who, at the time of the celebration, was psychologically incapacitated to comply with the essential marital obligations of marriage, shall likewise be void even if such incapacity becomes manifest only after its solemnization;
- 31. In Santos v. Court of Appeals, 310 Phil. 21 39 (1995), it held that "psychological incapacity is characterized by: (a) gravity (i.e., it must be grave and serious such that the party ti must be grave and serious such that the party would be incapable of carrying out the ordinary duties required in a marriage); (b) juridical antecedence (i.e., it must be rooted in the history of the party antedating the marriage, although the overt manifestations may emerge only the overt manifestations may emerge only after the marriage); and (c) incurability (i.e., it must be incurable, or even if it were otherwise, the cure would be beyond the means of the party involved).",

- 32. In the recent case of Tan-Andal v. Andal. GR No. 196359 (2021), the Supreme Court set new guidelines in determining the existence of psychological incapacity:
- a. Psychological incapacity is neither a n. Psychological incapacity is neither a mental incapacity nor a personality disorder that must be proven through expert testimony. There must be proof, however, of the durable or enduring aspects of a person's personality, called "personality structure," which manifests itself through clear acts of dysfunctionality that undergines the family: that undermines the family,
- b. Incurable, not in the medical, but in the Incuranie, not in the medical, but in the legal sense; incurable as to the partner. Psychological incapacity is so enduring and persistent with respect to a specific partner, and contemplates a situation where the couple's respective personality structures are so incompatible and antagonistic that the only result of the union would be the inevitable and irreparable hreakdown of the marriage;
- c. As to gravity, it must be shown that the incapacity is caused by a genuinely serious psychic cause. It is not necessary that it must be shown that the psychological incapacity is a serious or dangerous illness BUT that "mild characterological peculiarities, mood changes, occasional emotional outbursts" are excluded;
- d. Juridical antecedence. The incapacity must be proven to be existing at the time of the celebration of the marriage even if such incapacity becomes manifest only after its solemnization. Proof of this may consist of testimonies describing the environment where the supposedly incapacitated spouse lived that may have led to a particular
- 33. Ms. JURILEX A. MAGLINTE, a Registered a Psychometrician and Psychologist, examined the personality of Allan, based on multiple sources. She found that Allan has significant impairment on his interpersonal functions. Expounding on this evaluation, the report convincingly states,

First, Allan lacks empathy and is unwilling to recognize identify with feelings or needs of Charity. He is only attuned to his feelings and needs if perceived as relevant to himself and tends to overestimate or underestimate the effect of his actions on Charity; Second, Allan is personally exploitative i.e.

takes advantage of Charity to achieve his own unes auvanuage of Charity to the oronic mends. Allan is demanding Charity to provide financial support, not only to him, but also his family. He would get angry when Charity delayed sending money and would only call Charity to ask about sending money; Third, he is psychologically and sexually abusive. He would often utter demeaning words to Charity and sexually abuse her. His misogynistic views are also inherent as he would use his being the 'husband' as the reason for Charity to have to submit to him;

Lastly, he has an unhealthy attachment with his mother. His enmeshed relationship with his mother has affected the parties relationship since he cannot make decisions for himself. Their relationship is enmeshed meaning there are no personal boundaries between Allan and his mother.

34. The Psychological Report proved Allan's psychological incapacity; the report stated that:

Allan M. Marquez is psychologically incapacitated to comply with the obligations of marriage. He exhibited significant impairments in his interpersonal functioning. Specifically, he lacks empathy; he is secondly exploited to the incompanion of the property of the proper personally exploitative; abusive; and is an enmeshed relationship with his mother. Said impairments render him incapable of omplying with his marital obligations to itual love and respect and render nutual help and support as provided in the

. As to the time, gravity and incurability of Allan's behavior, the report convincingly states that:

There is incapacity existing even before and/or at the time of the celebration of marriage, which became more manifest as both husband and wife continued living

Allan's personality speaks of antecedence as it has an early onset with an enduring patterns and behavior and deviates markedly from the individual's culture. Allan grew up from the individual's culture. Attain grew up under the care of his strict and controlling mother. As a consequence, they developed an enmeshed relationship which blurred their boundaries. Allan displays an attitude of being personally exploitative, a trait he observed and learned from his mother.

There is gravity because respondent's There is gravity because respondent's unhealthy attachment to his mother, lack of empathy, abusive behavior, and being personally exploitative makes him incapable of complying with his marital obligations. There is no help and support because his behavior towards Charity is for personal gain. As a result, his actions created mental suffering and trauma toward Charity.

There is incurability because those behaviors were stable across time and observed as early as childhood, continuing through adulthood Those behavioral manifestations cannot be cured because h has no insight into his problems to fix them.
